NARRATIVE REPORT

To equip teachers with knowledge and skills in journalism, the Division of Cagayan de Oro conducted a 2025 Division Journalism Training Theme: INKSPIRE TO ASPIRE: Campus Journalism Training for Coaches and School Paper Advisers Sub-theme: Strengthening Campus Journalism through Responsible Coaching, Ethical Reporting, and 21st Century Media Skills last May 04-06, 2025, at the Conference Room of the Division of Cagayan de Oro City.

The 2025 Division Journalism training was conducted to capacitate campus journalism coaches and school paper advisers in fostering responsible, ethical, and media-savvy student journalists. Anchored on the theme INKSPIRE TO ASPIRE, the training emphasized the pivotal role of educators in shaping the next generation of campus journalists through responsible coaching, ethical reporting, and mastery of 21st-century media tools.

The aim of the training is to enhance the competencies of journalism coaches and advisers in ethical reporting and media literacy, equip participants with strategies for responsible coaching and mentoring, introduce innovative tools and techniques for digital journalism and multimedia storytelling, strengthen collaboration among campus journalism stakeholders across schools in the division. It was participated by all school paper advisers and coaches in the entire Division of Cagayan de Oro.

The training successfully met its objectives, inspiring campus journalism stakeholders to elevate their practices through responsible coaching, ethical standards, and modern media skills. The initiative not only strengthened individual competencies but also fostered a culture of excellence and collaboration in campus journalism across the division.

It created a ripple effect across the division, with tangible improvements in campus journalism practices: elevated Quality of School Publications: Advisers reported enhanced student outputs in news writing, editorial cartooning, and layout design following the training. Increased Student Engagement: Schools observed a rise in student participation in journalism clubs and campus publications, attributed to more confident and competent coaching. Ethical Awareness: Advisers demonstrated greater sensitivity to ethical issues in reporting, fostering a culture of integrity and accountability in student journalism. Digital Transformation: Several schools began integrating digital platforms (e.g., blogs, e-newsletters, and social media) into their campus journalism programs.

Sustainable Mentorship: The training inspired the formation of peer mentoring groups among advisers, promoting continuous learning and support.

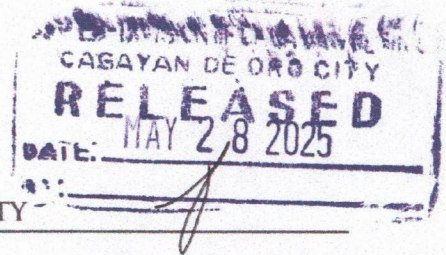

The 2025 Division Journalism Training successfully met its objectives, inspiring campus journalism stakeholders to elevate their practices through responsible coaching, ethical standards, and modern media skills. The program's impact continues to resonate across schools, fostering a vibrant, ethical, and future-ready campus journalism culture.
